

Making a difference

Sixth biennial Minority Lawyers' Conference

An established feature of the legal calendar, the Minority Lawyers' Conference provides a forum for BME lawyers and those in the legal profession to express their views and exert their influence on legal and relevant issues.

The programme, conducted in plenary sessions, offers a wide variety of information and advice on developing a legal practice, a career and personal skills, and promotes the participation of minority lawyers in the profession and in public life.

Enjoy networking opportunities with over 200 barristers and solicitors from all areas of the legal profession. Visit the exhibition, mingle over lunch and make new contacts at the champagne reception at the end of the day.

“ It is fitting indeed that the conference should focus on the importance of the rule of law as the foundation of democratic and peaceful societies, where human rights are protected and where diversity is seen as an asset rather than a threat. I am also very pleased that you have chosen to discuss the significant role which the private sector can play in fostering respect for human rights and diversity. I take this opportunity to wish you and your colleagues all success in your proceedings. ”

Kofi Annan, Secretary-General,
United Nations, October 2006

Saturday 28 April 2007 at the Law Society, London

CPD accreditation for the Bar Council, the Law Society and ILEX: up to 6 hours.

minority lawyers' conference
race, religion and culture
2007

